

ANGELINA JOLIE'S CHARACTER PROFILE

This character profile is unique, there is no other like it in the world. It is written from the experience of a professional practitioner of astrology over twenty years.
Two sections:

BRIEF PSYCHOLOGICAL PROFILE & GENERAL FOCUS - details the general trends and outstanding characteristics of your nature, exactly what is the special genius of your personality.

PERSONALITY - Your personality, physical, emotional, creativity, talents and impulsive qualities described and assessed.

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS

This is the first section of your astrological profile, and what is shown here is the general overview of your horoscope, your general psychological orientation to life, the main themes and trends, which will shape your life. If there is an outstanding trait which suggests genius it is shown here.

BRIEF PSYCHOLOGICAL PROFILE

This briefly shows how you orientate yourself to the world - your understanding and experience of the world you live in. It may be the same or different to other peoples. Understanding this will help you communicate, educate and direct yourself.

Active. You are an extrovert. You are positive and outgoing; you reach out and make things happen. You project confidence and enthusiasm and are effective, people get to know you easily. For you life is a screen to be projected onto. You pay little attention to your inner world. Therefore, you need to develop introspection and learn to use your feelings.

You experience the world objectively. Angelina you are a sophisticated and worldly individual who is comfortable in the social, business and political world. You want to be important and influential. The public acknowledges and notices you. Though sometimes shrewd, what people see is what they get. Wanting your place at the top, you respond well to praise and recognition. Thus you aggressively and competitively seek to be in the limelight. Indicated is a business person therefore, train yourself for leadership and public position. You have got the confidence and aggressiveness to make it. You are intellectual therefore you need to develop contact with your feelings.

You are extroverted thinking type and will have difficulties expressing feeling. You have a gift for planning and are suited to positions of authority, government, law and science. You always get to the facts and actively seek out clumsiness and laziness. Loving to establish order, you take stands on issues and can sort out the world. "Let's get the facts" you say and then we will do something. The outer world absorbs you, giving you little time to feel your inner world, and if you did you would probably find that you have naive ideas about peace, justice and charity.

You need to be in touch with your feelings. But you spend so much time planning the world you forget them. Asking yourself "Why do I do that?" Then you are in contact with your feelings and may become depressed. Therefore, you avoid relaxation and holidays as they force you to feel and re-evaluate your life. There is only so much planning that you can do.

You do have feelings but you think of them as no bodies' business but your own. This makes you faithful and loyal though that is hidden. You feel strongly about certain ideals and this enables you to influence society. When not acknowledged your feelings have a destructive effect on you. Because, you see no one else's ideas but your own and never doubt your ideals or convictions. Strong attachment to your mother.

GENERAL FOCUS

Here are the 'qualities' of your birth chart that give emphasis to and influence your character in a general but all-encompassing way. They indicate your additional underlying approach to the world.

Mutable quality is strong

Humanistic temperament would be one of the best ways of describing you. You are a born social worker. What interests you most are people, your relationship with them and what you both have learnt about life. Angelina you always learn from experience. Being part of things socially is important and you are one of life's great joiners. Wanting to be part of the action. You are not exactly ambitious or opinionated, you are more interested in developing skills and learning how to use these to solve present problems. Having an adaptable and mental approach to life you will use experience as a guide in handling your affairs. You vacillate backwards and forwards finding your way around obstacles rather than using a direct approach. As a result some people may see you as inconsistent, unstable or unreliable.

What they do not understand is that your decisions are based upon the common good, so therefore, there are many options. There are not always clear cut answers for you Angelina. At your best, you can fit in and work around obstacles, delegating to others and bringing them together for a common goal. At your worst, you exploit your friends and lean on people and society; past memories interfere with present reality.

YOUR MOST OUTSTANDING CHARACTERISTIC

Saturn in focus

*****ATTENTION*****

The best word to describe you is SHREWD. Your relationships with your father and your superiors dominate your life. The sections on "Career" and your "Father" are very important as both these sections dictate your life. Ultimately, your father is the most important person in your life. Therefore, your success depends on how well you relate to each other.

Ambitious, cautious, conservative, sensitive, self-limiting, disciplined, patient, shrewd and reserved are some of the words which best describes you Angelina. Your ambition to succeed and your sense of duty and dominate your personality. Continually you are striving to get to the top and only make moves that will help you succeed. Seldom do you make a social or business move that will not strengthen your position. Therefore, by becoming a professional and an authority in your chosen field you become accomplished. You are a conservative, a natural in business and have management potential. Early responsibilities or your fear of failure may restrict your success. Don't overburden yourself by your over developed sense of duty.

You may see the world as a solemn place, full of responsibilities which you take very seriously. Lighten up! This strong sense of duty often puts you in the role of leader, you were born to make a lasting impact upon society. Early responsibilities have forced you to grow up fast, and always you have appeared more mature than your years. People assume Angelina that you are older than you are. In another way you are a late starter, because you don't find your true path in life until you reach thirty then life becomes easier for you. You begin to become accepted for all the hard work you put in during your adolescence.

Being parental, you may appear old and stern to others. As a form of protection you may be critical of others and make them feel guilty. Don't play on this. You do this with your continual reproaches. Acutely sensitive to criticism, you protect yourself from it or rejection by developing a poker face. You never want to show any weakness. People may interpret this as you being cold and unapproachable. If they do they may avoid you, and you become isolated stuck behind a rigid wall without emotional support. When you do feel alone you may become withdrawn, bitter and hostile further removing yourself from others.

It is important that you project an image of authority and be acknowledged as someone important. If you don't get this you can then be negative, bitter and depressed.

This is tough for you, the responsibility which is placed on you is almost too much for you to handle. Your father and authority figures may have been extremely hard or negative toward you. Therefore, you get depressed easily and find life a burden and develop a negative attitude. You can get caught up in a "guilt trip" as a result or lay that on other people. People buy into this so quickly. Too much responsibility too young was detrimental to your personal growth. Life for you picks up in your thirties. If you don't take up your responsibilities to be a success, you may carry a chip on your shoulder resenting anyone who is.

*****

CHARACTER & PERSONALITY

Here Angelina your character is described, your vitality, emotional state and your ability to assert yourself. In essence, your essential self and personal needs, your creative abilities and special personal talents. This is the heart of your profile. Your personal approach to life and your physical body is shown here. This section describes the type of personality that you express yourself through.

Capricorn Ascendant

Angelina you are essentially cautious and reserved with excellent business and managerial skills. You are a business person, who is very ambitious and wishes to get on. You always have your eye on getting to the top, so you seldom make a business or social move that does not strengthen your position. Symbols of status are important to you, though these are displayed conservatively. To the world you present a poker face, never wanting to show weakness. Others may interpret this as coldness and stiffness, but it just you trying to be strong. You may appear old and stern, being parental and authoritative, bossing others. It is important to you that you project an image of authority.

Life will get better as you get older, since you may have got off to a slow or troubled start. There probably were many responsibilities for you to shoulder. Because you are so dutiful be careful of over burdening yourself. You have a strong sense of duty and take your responsibilities seriously. Your parents have a strong influence over you and your ambitions.

DOMINATING PERSONALITY TRAIT

Uranus in 1st house

***** ATTENTION *****

Your personality is dictated by an original and inventive intellect and a desire to be independent. What you frequently say is "I want to be free" and behave eccentrically! In life you want to be treated differently - as a unique individual, for whom the rules should be changed. This makes you real cool! or a rebel. Rebelling against anything conservative or mainstream. You are a walking contradiction who is intelligent, creative and innovative; a possible genius but also undisciplined, erratic, unpredictable and unreliable. You are ahead of your time.

Angelina you live your own life; are headstrong; unconventional and restless wanting to be different. Because you are intelligent it is difficult to accept discipline and structure. That makes your early years unsettled. You want the freedom to do things your way and be recognized as special. If you do not get it, you get the pip. Being told "you cannot" does not go down well with you. You rebel and do the opposite. This sort of conduct is irritating to people especially those in authority.

If your genius is to be acknowledged you need self-discipline, otherwise you are just weird or anti- social. If people suggest interesting ideas and solicit your cooperation you are receptive and loyal. You are liberal and a humanitarian - accepting of people. At your best you respect the uniqueness in others. Because you are social you need to be involved with a group, club or society, although, you resist joining groups. Naturally you are a communal person and may feel different because the rest of society has not developed your particular sense of cooperation yet. You need to lead the way. First though you need to awaken this sense of cooperation - by experimenting with living in different types of communities.

You need excitement and stimulation; otherwise you become bored and tense. Boredom is your worst enemy to avoid it you take risks. Angelina you need to be careful that the risks are not hazardous or foolhardy. Health problems arise from a poor diet and excessive nervous tension, leading to stress and burnout. To deal with this tension you need to eat well and have physical exercise to stay grounded. Make sure you eat brain food.

Your interest in scientific and technical subjects; and the occult; makes you talented in electronics, computing and the humanities.

*****

Neptune in first house

***** ATTENTION *****

You exert a subtle authority which comes from your contact with your inner world, the spiritual realms and your connection with the universe. You have an inner knowing which in its manifestation is pure psychic ability. Positively you are an inspired artist or healer while negatively you are an escapist or an addict. Your personality is dominated by your ideals, dreams, visions, the unconscious, art, music and dance.

Therefore, you come across as a visionary, a dreamer who is in contact with the more subtle and unconscious aspect of life. Although at times you are confused and vague about these. Angelina you appear as ethereal and seductive, an inspired artist, healer and visionary. You hypnotize others and subtly influence your immediate environment. This is the secret to your skills as a healer or dancer. Some of these qualities will not be obvious till you move into your thirties. But the need to dance is always present.

You are acutely impressionable. Being sensitive you are aware of the moods and feelings of others around you. And are easily influenced by your surroundings, or exert a subtle influence over it, either for healing or confusion. Therefore, you need to live in a very wholesome environment. Because of your visionary qualities, you need to be careful of becoming lost in the glamour's or illusions that you weave. Good at acting and imitating; dance and photography, Angelina you are a perfect artist or musician. You pick up and take on the mood of others, whether they are good or bad. Learn to be clear about what is real in the world and what is not. Kind and aware, you are sensitive to the sufferings of others and often wish to help. You need to avoid rescuing people, you won't be appreciated for this.

When you help people you are truly yourself, so you are sensitively, empathic and compassionate. You can care more for society than yourself, and are considerate of others' needs. Commitment to these ideals gives your life, meaning, brings peace of mind. Because you are easily swayed by mass emotional appeals and social causes you can be manipulated. Often you express the ideals and beliefs of the institution which you are part of, not knowing which is yours or theirs - or escape from them. Instinctively you merge with people, causes or ideals and become consumed by them. Therefore, you have unclear boundaries and may not be totally sure of who you are. Learn to say no and to separate from others. To do this you need time alone, periods of retreat and meditation. When you have that you become a strategist. If you do not you hide your true self being compliant and submissive - and appear incompetent, not knowing who you are or what you stand for.

At your worst you can be an escapist, disordered and slovenly, escaping from reality through alcohol or drugs. Do be careful as your escapist tendencies are strong and you have an addictive personality.

Because you are very quiet and subtle people may miss you or often over look you. You need to stand up for yourself so people notice you. This is especially important where doctors are concerned as they may often misdiagnose you or ignore your symptoms. Make sure you get a second opinion when you are seriously ill. Health issues arise from problems with addiction, poisons and food additives.

You bless people by your presence and heal them without even being aware of this. Develop your potential as far as you can.

*****

PERSONAL TALENTS AND OBSTACLES

Now we show you what talents you have to enhance your personality, appearance and the obstacles that frustrate your expression. This information either reinforces what has been said or contradicts it. The extent of the contradictions depends upon how complex you are as a person. They are what is often referred to as character. They manifest separately at any one time or altogether. If your birth time is out by twenty minutes what is said here may not apply at all.

OBSTACLE: You receive a negative response from authority figures and that effects your self-esteem. You need to learn to love yourself and not to devalue what you have to say. You very easily let other people put you down. You need to become assertive and stand up for yourself. Otherwise, you will always compromise yourself. You feel guilty if you are not pleasing other people.

PERSONALITY SUMMARY

A serious and solemn person personality you are pessimistic and sullen. You feel burdened by your ambition and responsibilities. People avoid you and you neglect your appearance. People see you has disorderly and resentful you with an "attitude".

-ooOoo-